

Early Career Impact Award Nomination Form

As an organization, FABBS strives to be open and inviting, welcoming a full range of views and perspectives. FABBS fosters diversity at every level of our activities. Ideally, our award winners will reflect the diverse disciplines of our scientific societies, as well as diversity with respect to race and ethnicity, geography, gender identity, sexual and political orientation.

Information about Nominee

Name:

Affiliation:

Mailing Address:

E-mail Address:

Office Phone:

Home or Cell Phone:

Website URL:

Information about Member Society

Society:

Contact Name:

Contact Mailing Address:

E-mail Address:

Office Phone:

Home or Cell Phone:

Website URL:

Please include the nominee's CV with the submission materials.

Research Statement of Awardee

Describe the major research contributions of the awardee, including relevance to policy and/or practice (in 400 or fewer words):

Early Career Impact Award Nomination Form

Please note that this form is for use by a FABBS member society representative, not individuals for self-nomination. Individuals who wish to be nominated should contact their member society for the process.

Statement of Impact on the World

Describe activities of the awardee that have raised awareness of the science to the public (in 200 or fewer words):

Statement of Award Dissemination

Describe the venues of announcing this award to members of your scientific society (in 200 or fewer words):

By checking this box, I affirm that to the best of my knowledge, the nominee has not breached any codes of professional or ethical conduct of our society or their home institution(s).

Early Career Impact Award Nomination Form

Additional Comments

Tell us about the process used to select the awardee, as well as any other questions or concerns you may have:

Please note that FABBS is happy to ship award plaques to any conference in the continental United States. We regret that we are not able to ship internationally.